1. At the end of 1953, a Border Guard (PB) unit began to build bunkers - reinforced with wooden logs in the slope of a hill in the Ujezd Svateho Krize (N 49-34, E 12-45) - Svratno (N 49-35, E 12-45) area. The whole area of the hill lying east of Ujezd has been taken over from the State Forest Administration by the military. No forest work is allowed there and as a result wild growth has prevailed.
2. The bunkers were built on the south side of the Bela nad Radbuzou - Hostoun - Potezovice road. A single track railroad line runs alongside the road, and the military area extends along the sector of the road between the villages of Ujezd and Svratno. The wooded slope of Schwarzenberg hill is also closed to the public, but no installations in this area can be seen from the road.
3. Border Guard members carry out regular checks on the state of the bunkers and repair any damage the bunkers might have suffered.
4. The bunkers are about 50 meters from the road along the north edge of the wood; they are 50-60 meters apart. The front side of the bunkers is facing the road, the rear part is in the slope. The side walls, roof and floor are reinforced with logs, earth is heaped on the top of the roof. The length of each bunker is about 3-4 meters and the height 2.5 meters. Eight bunkers are visible from the road.
